

I Found Myself Dancing Today,,,
Chloe Deeba

The days seem coated with uncertainty streets linker with a violent silence In this city we all call home where people move to find themselves
I am standing here
alone.

We all may be in this world we wish to escape Waiting for the one completely free moment to call our own.

But now
I will keep dancing
peacefully
for my family for myself
to find the little things in this silent
chaos.

The day will come when the boundaries fall
Then I will realize
in my dance
in my stride

I always had
You
through it all,
You
never let me fall

I found myself dancing today.
