

Song To Future Me
Chloe Deebea

Future self have you found what you wanted or what you never thought you wanted

Have you seen the world from ocean to plateau?
as you grasp every crevice of ground beneath your feet.

Do the city lights remain wide awake with your dreams?
or do the hills call you away as the wilderness sings while you stay in your abode where his picture in your room taped up with the memories of those nights as the voice calling “momma” pulls on the shirt he gave you years ago.

Which ever way
may there be joy in your heart.
one life only is assigned to you how you live it belongs to you.
